EDUCATION

2:00 08/09/2006 5:30PM

Schools W/in School

It's a school within a school. Or rather, a few schools within a school. Today East Wake High in Wendell held an orientation for students. In many ways, East Wake represents the changing face of high school in North Carolina. As Scott Mason explains, it's one piece of the pie.

2:00 09/12/2006 5:30PM

School Water

A school in Cumberland County is still waiting for the water to get turned on again. Seabrook Elementary School outside Fayetteville had Total Coli form bacteria turn up in its well water on August 25th. Officials say a sample was taken to the lab last week, and came back positive. For now, students can NOT drink from the fountains or wash their hands in the bathrooms. The school expects another test to come in this week.

2:00 09/12/2006 6PM

Sick Out

Opponents to mandatory year-round have used their voice. Now one group is planning a sick day for students called a "track out solidarity day". It would tentatively end with a picket at an October 3rd school board meeting.

2:00 09/13/2006 5:30PM

Franklin County Clash

At two Franklin County Elementary Schools...two federal orders are clashing. The schools are supposed to let students transfer as a penalty for not meeting No Child Left Behind, but the superintendent says doing that threatens the balance of a 1967 desegregation order.

2:00 09/13/2006 11PM

Positive Year Round

Just the MENTION of year-round calendars stirs heated reaction on both sides. Nineteen elementary schools in Wake County are already scheduled to make the switch next year. Now students at five middle schools could also make the change. And to some...change is good!

2:00 09/14/2006 5:30PM

Crosswalk Woes

Cars... a crosswalk... And carefree students. Every morning they converge in front of East Millbrook Magnet Middle School. Parents say the walk signal isn't long enough.

2:00 09/14/2006 5:30PM

Taser Camera

Officer Walter Myer has only had to use his taser gun once at Garner Magnet High School. But if he has to use it again... Someone or something will be watching. There's a tiny camera in the bottom of the gun that records everything. It's new technology and Garner is one of the first police departments in the area to get it.

Crying Babies

WRAL-TV5 Issues/Programs Quarterly Report

July 1, 2006 – September 30, 2006

When parents bring home newborns, one of the big challenges is quieting their cries. Dr Allen Mask goes through the Five S's of gently calming a newborn by recreating the feelings they had in the womb.

2:00 07/04/2006 5PM

JAMA Obesity

There's a difference between being overweight, obese, and extremely obese. In women, the extra pounds that make up the difference could impact whether you develop any number of diseases and eventually could take years off your life. Dr Allen Mask breaks down the numbers.

2:00 07/05/2006 5PM

Sugar

With nearly two-thirds of Americans overweight, a major contributor - is the sweet tooth! You know what you're getting in sugary cereals or candy, but the amount of sugar in processed foods could surprise you. Dr Allen Mask breaks out the scale and the sugar to visually show how much is in some of the foods and drinks we eat on a regular basis.

2:00 07/06/2006 5PM

Diabetic Diet

Low carb, low sugar, high protein. All aspects of a healthy diet that diabetics need to learn in order to control their insulin. However, it's a lesson plenty of us could learn as well. Dr Allen Mask shows us how eating like a diabetic now can spare people from developing the disease later.

2:00 07/07/2006 5PM

Baby Teeth

Your child has a doctor, what about a dentist? Even though they are just baby teeth, they're a good place to teach your child a lifetime of good habits. Plus, catching problems early can make a difference down the road. Dr Allen Mask explains why they could even benefit from a dentist's visit before they have teeth!

2:00 07/10/2006 5PM

Autism Test

You can't cure Autism, but it can be treated, and the sooner that treatment starts, the more effective it is. Usually, you have to wait until your child is old enough to communicate to notice the signs, but as Dr Allen Mask shows us, doctors believe a certain kind of fold in the placenta can allow them to diagnose autism at birth.

2:00 07/11/2006 5PM

Active Life

A new study shows that senior citizens don't need aggressive exercise - they just need activity. Even simple household chores or walking a dog can increase their length and quality of life. Dr Allen Mask reports.

2:00 07/12/2006 5PM

Dental Implants

Plenty of senior citizens have dentures, bridges and plates to replace lost teeth. But younger people in need of repairing their smiles are turning to dental implants. Dr Allen Mask talks to a local man who had a titanium screw implanted to anchor a false tooth and fix his grin.

2:00 07/13/2006 5PM

Burn Camp

Children with disabilities or illnesses just want to be like normal kids. Now, there's a camp in North Carolina that lets them do just that. Dr Allen Mask tags along as some of the youngest patients at the UNC Burn Center spend a week at the Victory Junction Camp, designed to make kids with special medical needs feel as normal as possible.

2:00 07/14/2006 5PM

Nicotine Vaccine

Quitting smoking isn't easy, but a new vaccine could be the ticket for plenty of people. Nic-Vax uses a series of five shots to block the pleasure center in the brain that is impacted by the nicotine. Dr Allen Mask reports.

can be just as harmful once you reach a certain age. Dr Allen Mask walks us through who needs to watch out.

2:00 08/28/2006 5PM

Young Researcher

Proof you don't have to be an adult to make a difference in the world of medicine. Dr Allen Mask introduces us to Shivani Sud, a 16 year old who won a 50-thousand dollar scholarship for her work in cancer research.

2:00 08/29/2006 5PM

Health Summit

A report released today shows obesity is on the rise in 31 of America's 50 states, and ranks North Carolina as the 17th heaviest. Dr Allen Mask shows us the state's plan to fight the fat - a five year statewide initiative that calls for things like more sidewalks - and healthier eating and exercise options in or near the work place.

2:00 08/30/2006 5PM

TMJ Disorder

That headache you chalk up to stress could be a problem with your jaw. 40 percent of Americans have TMJ Disorder and don't even know it. The condition leads to headaches, pain in the shoulder and neck, and toothaches. Dr Allen Mask points out the symptoms and looks at the forms of treatment.

2:00 09/01/2006 5PM

Digital Mammography

Digital mammography is a more precise way to identify tumors than traditional film images. It's also more expensive! Now the FDA has approved a development that will allow hospitals to convert traditional machines to digital at a fraction of the cost, making the life-saving technology available to millions of women in this country. Dr Allen Mask shows us how.

2:00 09/05/2006 5PM

Hospital OT

Medical interns are known for the long hours they put in to earn the title of "doctor." But even after the profession cut their hours back to 80 hours a week 3 years ago, many are still working more hours. A new report says those long hours lead to more mistakes and can even put patients' health at risk. Dr Allen Mask reports.

2:00 09/06/2006 5PM

PKD Newborn

Polycystic Kidney Disorder affects more than 600 thousand Americans. That's more than Down Syndrome, Cystic Fibrosis, Muscular Dystrophy, Hemophilia and Sickle Cell Anemia - combined! It's not normally diagnosed until adulthood but Dr Allen Mask introduces us to a local family whose newborn daughter is fighting her own battle against this deadly condition.

2:00 09/07/2006 5PM

48 HOURS MYSTERY: "The Man Who Knew Too Much" - American journalist Paul Klebnikov was shot nine times on July 9, 2004 in a contract killing as he left Forbes magazine's Moscow headquarters. Klebnikov, as editor-in-chief, was working to expose corruption in Russia's new economy, where the rich and powerful often operate outside the law. He made many potential enemies, including one notorious businessman about whom he wrote a book called "Godfather Of The Kremlin." In his most recent book, "Conversation With a Barbarian," he alleged that a Chechen leader had organized crime connections. Just before his death, Klebnikov was investigating Moscow's real estate business; the auto industry in Toliatti; as well as the murder of another journalist who had exposed fraud at Toliatti. Includes interviews with Klebnikov's sister Anna, his brothers, Peter and Michael, and his wife Helen Train. The Klebnikov family has set up a fund for Russian journalists to pursue Paul's dream of a free press in Russia. High-ranking U.S. government officials are pressuring the Kremlin to find out who was responsible for the journalist's murder.

48 HOURS MYSTERY: "Terror At The Morgue" - Dr. O.C. Smith, a Memphis, Tennessee medical examiner was apparently attacked on June 1, 2002, as he was leaving work. He was found wrapped head-to-toe in barbed wire with a bomb strapped to his neck. Dr. Smith survived but expressed concern that his assailant might attack again. The police at first focused on Philip Workman, a man Dr. Smith's testimony helped keep on death row, but further investigation showed that Workman was not involved in the attack. Having become suspicious of Dr. Smith's account, federal investigators took their evidence to a grand jury which indicted Smith for lying to federal agents and illegal possession of a bomb. Having rejected a plea bargain which involved the admission of guilt, Smith was brought to trial. The judge in the case declared a mistrial when the jury failed to reach a verdict. Although there have been no further attacks on Dr. Smith, he still fears for his life and is considering job offers outside the United States.

Includes an interview with Bode's mother, Jo Miller.

60:00 07/18/2006 10PM

48 HOURS MYSTERY: "A Knock On The Door"- in 1982, in the town of Olathe, Kansas, a young banker named David Harmon was bludgeoned to death in his bed. His wife Melinda told authorities that two men intent on robbing the bank where David worked had broken into their home and committed the crime. Investigators believed, but could not prove, that Melinda was involved in a secret affair with family friend Mark Mangelsdorf, and that the two were involved in David's murder. Nearly 20 years later, armed with new forensic technology, police zeroed in on the couple: Mangelsdorf, an independent business consultant in New York City, is now married with five children and lives in Pelham, N.Y.; Melinda, now living in Columbus, Ohio is married to a dentist and is the mother of two. Melinda was tried and found guilty of murder and conspiracy to commit murder. Facing a sentence of life in prison, she offered the prosecutor information about what happened the night of the murder in exchange for a lighter sentence. Melinda and Mangelsdorf, who entered a guilty plea, will be sentenced on May 12.

48 HOURS MYSTERY: "Defending Your Life" - for nearly 17 years, sisters Kim and Beth Jones of Snohomish, Washington, have been trying to prove that their father, Jerry Jones, Jr. is innocent of the Dec. 3, 1988 stabbing murder of their mother, Lee. Jones was tried and found guilty of his wife's murder, but in 1999, an appeals court ordered him released due to an ineffective lawyer. In 2001, Jones was re-tried and re-convicted. His conviction was reversed again, because the jury didn't hear crucial evidence. In 2005, Jones, who chose to represent himself, was tried for the third time. Despite Jones' attempts to prove that Danny Busby, a teenage neighbor, was the real killer, a jury found him guilty of murder. He was sentenced to 25 years in prison, but as a result of time served and good behavior, Jerry Jones will be eligible for release in three years. Includes interviews with retired detectives Billy Adams and Jim Hirsch.

60:00 07/25/2006 10PM

48 HOURS MYSTERY: "Dream Killer"- Kent Heitholt, the popular sports editor of The Daily Tribune in Columbus, Missouri was found bludgeoned and strangled near his car on Halloween night 2001. Two years later, 19-year-old Charles "Chuck" Erickson told a friend that he had a dream about his involvement in the crime. Although his memory of events was hazy, Erickson told police about events leading up to the murder and implicated his high school friend Ryan Ferguson. He explained that he and Ferguson were out drinking the night of the murder and, when they ran out of money, decided to rob someone. When the two young men approached Heitholt, things got out of hand. Both Erickson and Ferguson were taken into custody and charged with murder. Four years after Heitholt's death, Ferguson, who claimed innocence, was tried for murder. The state's star witness was his former friend, Erickson, who admitted his involvement in the crime but claimed that Ferguson was the instigator. Found guilty of second-degree murder and first-degree robbery, Ryan Ferguson was sentenced to 40 years in prison. He will be eligible for parole in 2040.

48 HOURS MYSTERY: "A Question Of Murder"- John Maloney, a Green Bay, Wisconsin police officer, was convicted of murdering his estranged wife, Sandy, in 1999. He has always maintained his innocence. After Maloney's conviction, the prosecutor in the case, Joe Paulus, pled guilty to accepting bribes to fix more than 20 cases. The question arises as to whether Maloney got a fair trial and whether he is entitled to be re-tried. Sheila Berry, part-time novelist, part-time investigator and part-time head of Truth In Justice, a non-profit group that tries to help people it considers wrongly imprisoned, has taken up Maloney's cause. Berry is convinced not only that Maloney is innocent, but that Sandy Maloney was not murdered but died of alcohol poisoning. John Maloney is appealing for a new trial and the state of Wisconsin is investigating whether prosecutorial misconduct could have influenced the outcome of his trial for murder.

48 HOURS MYSTERY: "Two Wigs, A Gun And A Murder" - when Fred Jablin, a Richmond (Va.) University professor and devoted father was gunned down in his driveway on Oct. 30, 2004, his ex-wife, Piper was the prime suspect. When the couple divorced after 19 years of marriage, Jablin won custody of the their three children, and, at the time of Jablin's murder, Piper owed him about $7,000 in back child support. Circumstantial evidence including -- an airline ticket, two wigs and gas purchased in the Richmond, Va. Area -- all with a credit in card in the name of Piper's former boyfriend -- indicated that Piper had masqueraded as her older sister Tina in order to kill her husband. It was also found that she had practiced with a 38-caliber revolver at a Houston shooting range four days before the murder. Piper Rountree was arrested, tried, found guilty of first degree murder and sentenced to life in prison. Her sister, Tina, was charged with evidence tampering and will be tried this fall.

crime writer who had interviewed Roger Angleton in jail. Four days before Bob's federal murder trial was to begin, he fled to Amsterdam using phony credentials. On arrival at the airport he was apprehended by Dutch officials. The United States asked the Dutch government to extradite him back home, but Angleton's lawyers cited an international treaty prohibiting the Dutch government from sending him back to Houston to face murder charges a second time. In September 2004, Bob Angleton was brought back to the U.S. He pled guilty to passport and tax fraud and was sentenced to 12 years in federal prison. Once out of prison, the only way he can avoid another murder trial is to leave the U.S. forever.

48 HOURS MYSTERY: "What They Did For Love" - in 1994, 25-year-old Toni Dykstra of Los Angeles, the single mother of two young daughters, met and married Carlo Ventre, a successful 46-year-old Italian businessman. After Toni gave birth to their child, Santina, the couple's relationship soured. Despite a court custody order, Carlo fled to Italy with Santina in January 1998. Toni went to Italy where an Italian court ordered the baby returned to the U.S., but the day before she was to return home, Toni was found dead of head injuries in Carlo's apartment. Carlo claimed that he acted in self-defense when Toni attacked him. Toni's twin sister, Teri Martinez, believing that Toni had been murdered, was determined to get justice for her sister and enlisted the help of attorney Gloria Allred, who took on the case pro bono. Allred traveled to Italy six times since 1998 seeking justice for Toni and custody of Santina. Carlo Ventre, having been deported to Italy, was finally charged with voluntary murder in the first degree and will go to trial on March first, 2006. If Vestre is acquitted, U.S. prosecutors plan to extradite him to stand trial for plotting to kill Toni's father and stepmother, Milt and Betty Dykstra.

48 HOURS MYSTERY: "The Phone Call"- when Shannon Melendi, a 19-year-old sophomore at Emory University in Atlanta disappeared in March 1994, authorities believed she had either run away or had taken part in a college prank. Melendi's roommate, Athena Perez, became worried when her friend didn't return to the dorm room the evening of March 26. The next day, Perez and her friends found Melendi's abandoned car with the keys in it and called police. Following an extensive police search of the area that turned up no signs of the missing girl, the Melendi family and friends began their own aggressive search, offering a $10,000 reward for information and tapping into celebrities Andy Garcia and Bo Jackson who appeared on national television programs in an effort to help find Shannon. Nearly two weeks after Melendi vanished, an anonymous male phoned the Emory University counseling center claiming he had Shannon. The FBI traced the call to a pay phone where police found evidence that was intentionally left behind by the caller, a package containing a ring that belonged to Melendi. Only then did authorities treat the case as a kidnapping. Investigators managed to trace pieces of the package to Colvin "Butch" Hinton III, an umpire at the softball field where Melendi worked the day she went missing. Authorities searched Hinton's home and property but found no human remains and nothing that could be linked to Shannon. They did uncover the fact that Hinton had a violent criminal past covering decades. In late 2003, a new prosecutor took up the case, and more than ten years after Shannon Melendi disappeared, police and FBI agents arrested "Butch" Hinton and charged him with her murder. Hinton was tried, found guilty of kidnapping and murder, and sentenced to life in prison. Yvonne and Luis Melendi, Shannon's parents, have set their sights on a new mission, seeking longer prison sentences for sexual predators, especially repeat offenders like Hinton.

48 HOURS MYSTERY: "Secrets From The Grave" - Bill Flint, an electrical engineer from the Houston, Texas area, was involved in an ugly custody dispute with his ex-wife, Cassandra Smith, over their daughter. Smith claimed that Flint had molested the child. About two years after the divorce Flint survived an ambush attack by Cassandra's brother and her new husband, Charlton Andras. Andras later tried to hire a hit man to finish the job. Two years later, Flint almost died in a suspicious on-the-job accident. In May 2002 he became violently ill in a pizza parlor and died of an apparent heart attack. Professor James Starrs, a forensic scientist, studied the case and was concerned by what he considers hurried findings from the first autopsy. At his own expense, Starrs had Flint's body exhumed. He feels that tests will show that Flint was murdered. A Texas court has yet to rule on final custody of the couple's daughter.

48 HOURS MYSTERY: "Black Dahlia Confidential"- the brutal murder in 1947 of Elizabeth Short, a young, struggling actress whose body was discovered in a vacant lot in January 1947, has baffled the Los Angeles Police Department for decades. After Short's death, newspapers began calling her "The Black Dahlia" - the name taken from the movie of the time "The Blue Dahlia." The case was made more intriguing by the fact that the killer sent handwritten notes to the tabloids, taunting authorities. Includes interviews with James Ellroy, a crime writer; former Los Angeles Detective Steve Hodel who has written a book, "Black Dahlia Avenger," identifying his father, Dr. George Hodel, as the killer; Tamar Hodel, Steve Hodel's half-sister; Michelle Philips, former singer with The Mamas And The Papas; Steven Kay, Deputy District Attorney; Dr. Mark Wallack, Chief of Surgery, St. Vincent's Hospital; John Osborn, document examiner; and Suni Chapman, forensic artist.

60:00 09/02/2006 10PM

48 HOURS MYSTERY: "The Girl Next Door"- reports on two instances in which forensic sculptors were called upon to help identify murder victims:

1) On the night of May 1, 2003, a teenage girl's body was found in a trash bag left behind a restaurant in Castro Valley, California. The gruesome discovery became detective Scott Dudek's obsession and touched the entire community, which came to call the young girl "Castro Valley's Jane Doe." The community rallied to raise money to bury her. Then, two years after "Jane" was found, as a last-ditch effort to identify the girl, Detective Dudek of the Alameda County Sheriff's office made the decision to exhume the body to search for clues that might have been missed. Forensic artist Gloria Nusse created a forensic reconstruction of Jane's face based on nothing but the skull in the hope that someone might recognize her. Detectives have tracked down over 800 leads to identify "Jane", and more than 350 missing girls have been ruled out.

2) An interview with forensic sculptor Frank Bender of Philadelphia whose facial reconstruction helped solve another murder. Gregory May disappeared in January 2001 from Bellevue, Iowa -- his children suspected foul play. When May's antique collection turned up for auction, police found the seller to be May's former friend and house-mate Doug DeBruin. Subsequently police found a skull at a truck stop hundreds of miles from Iowa. Bender was brought the skull to reconstruct the face -- and authorities later identified it as May. Other portions of May's body were located providing sufficient evidence to bring DeBruin to trial for murder. Includes an interview with Ellen Leach of the Doe Network, a group of amateur detectives dedicated to helping law enforcement solve cold cases by scouring the Internet searching for

48 HOURS MYSTERY: "Blaming The Babysitter"- thirteen-year-old Ashley Howes, a Seattle area girl, was given permission by her father John to act as a mother's helper for Morningstar Garden, a family friend, over the Martin Luther King, Jr. holiday weekend in 2005. A change of plans put Ashley in sole charge of two children -- five-year-old Madeline and 19-month-old Freya. During a period of time when Morningstar and her boyfriend Gracian Cline were out, Ashley said she heard a thud from the room where Freya was sleeping. On finding Freya in a fetal position groaning, Ashley called 911, and an ambulance rushed the child to a hospital where, two hours later, she was pronounced dead. Doctors told police that it appeared that the toddler had been violently shaken: she had major head injuries, including a blood clot in her brain. Ashley, having been interrogated by police for hours without the presence of a parent or an attorney, was tried for the child's murder. Because of the lack of evidence the case was dismissed and Ashley can never be retried for the murder of Freya Garden. Her parents are considering a civil law suit against the state of Washington.

48 HOURS MYSTERY: "The Informer" - a report on the moral dilemma faced by Jim Morel, a Norton, Massachusetts musician, who was told by another musician friend, Jason Weir, that the 2001 death of Marina Calabro, the elderly aunt of their bandmate Anthony Calabro, though initially ruled an accident, was actually a case of murder. In 2002, Weir, while discussing the reckless spending habits of Anthony Calabro, heir to the bulk of his aunt's estate, confessed to Morel that Calabro "didn't exactly die on her own." With that information, Morel went to authorities, who re-opened the case. Eventually his friends and band mates Jason Weir, Thomas Lally and Anthony Calabro were charged with the first-degree murder of Marina Calabro. The passage of time had complicated the case; but Lally was convicted of first-degree murder, Weir plea-bargained to the charge of manslaughter and Calabro, who had never given a statement to police, eventually confessed his complicity. Also includes comments by Marina Calabro's niece Donna, regarding Anthony Calabro's troubled past; Rick Weir, regarding his son's case; and Tom Lally's uncle, also named Tom, regarding the case.

WRAL's Parade of Sail

Capitol Broadcasting Co. and WRAL-TV, in cooperation with UNC-TV, presented live coverage of the WRAL Parade of Sail

WRAL-TV5 Issues/Programs Quarterly Report

July 1, 2006 – September 30, 2006

on the morning of Saturday, July 1, 9am - 11am. The complete high definition broadcast covered thirteen majestic sailing ships from around the world as they sailed into Beaufort as part of one of North Carolina's largest maritime events -- the Americas Sail 2006. WRAL anchors Debra Morgan, Bill Leslie, and David Crabtree hosted the two-hour parade coverage live from Radio Island and Beaufort, bringing viewers stunning high definition (HDTV) views of the magnificent vessels from several coastal vantage points, including SKY5. A venue expert, as well as a local historian, provided in-depth commentary on each ship as she passed by.

Olde Beaufort Seaport & Tall Ships

The Tall Ships event in Beaufort is a once in a lifetime event for many North Carolinians. Proceeds from this event help launch the development of the Olde Beaufort Seaport, which will impact generations to come. To help us better understand what the Olde Beaufort Seaport means to our state, WRAL's David Crabtree takes us to Mystic Seaport, a recreated 19th century coastal village in Connecticut, considered to be the nation's leading maritime museum. Then, we get up close and personal with the pirate that brought the tall ships to NC, followed by a highlights tour of the Tall Ships Parade.
